Nain is the largest community and the largest centre for the Inuit nation on the coast of Labrador. It is the most northerly community in our province, approximately 25 kilometres north of the Voisey's Bay mine site. It's mixture of cultures, social issues and religious tradition make it a challenging area for ministry.

After leaving Malawi Africa June 2010, Clarence (Junior) and Ivy accepted the invitation to minister in Nain, Labrador beginning January 2011 up to January 2017, at which time they moved back to Africa to another overseas missions ministry position in Monrovia, Liberia.

The Andrews' returned to Canada in July of 2017 due to political unrest in Liberia and sensing God's call back to Nain they returned there in October 2018 to present.

They have a clear sense of God's call to Nain and compassionate hearts toward the needy. Please pray God's wisdom and power for the special circumstance which they will encounter.
