Cavell has been involved in various ministries in Thailand since 1977. She has taught missionary kids, instructed Thai students at English-as-a-Second Language programs, written Sunday school curriculum and trained teachers in the use of this curriculum. She has taught and continues to be a part of the administration at Thailand Pentecostal Bible College. In her role of National facilitator for the PAOC (Thailand division), she also serves the Full Gospel Assemblies of Thailand as an advisor to the Church Planting and Leadership Development Committees, Women's Ministries, Christian Education, Agape and Abundant Love/Blessing Children's Homes and various Boards of Education, as well as helping with developing and training Thai missionaries.

Cavell has raised two Thai children and is now grandmother to four; Anda and Andrew (Jip) and Runn and Rinda (Benz). Her son, Benz's death in 2015 has given birth to a new ministry "Weaving Love" for moms with infants. This is a safe haven for newly widowed moms and their fatherless children to pick up the threads of their lives and enable them to be part of a loving community which will give Christian support.
